

VISIT USTALAV!

After centuries of abuse and exploitation, the people of Ustalav are a highly suspicious. Perfect for meeting close friends! And the wildlife is insane and exoctic!

Ustalav lies on the very northern tip of Lake Encarthan, surrounding much of Avalon Bay. It isis located next to two nations: the orc-inhabited Hold of Belkzen to the west and the Worldwound to the north, so there is always something exciting going on! Ustalav's inhabitants are insular and distrusting of foreigners but that is only because they haven't met you! The city of Carrion Hill is a strange place, resting atop an unnatural and unsettling mound. Why people choose to live here is unclear, but for some reason they always have and perhaps always will.
